
NEW PHONE YEAR, WHO DIS?

The desire for a clean slate in the new year is near universal. That's why, this January at Maxwell, we're celebrating winemakers that are reinventing themselves. This might mean tempering their region's excesses (cough California cough), overhauling their vineyards to go biodynamic, or experimenting with new varieties—all in search of a newer, better version of their wine. But—just like you after you finally start biking to work— this isn't about a total overhaul. Rather, these wines remain true to their roots while working towards more balance, finesse, and sustainability.

So join us in toasting 2025 with new varieties, new labels, and new winemaking techniques.
